ABOUT IPSWICH HOSPICE

- Ipswich Hospice Care is a not-for-profit charity that provides care to people with terminal illness and grief counselling services to their families and members of the community.
- Hospice was created by the community for the community and as such does not charge consumers for its services.
- While Hospice is partially funded through government grants, these do not cover all operating costs. Hospice utilises fundraisers and donations from the community to cover the gap in funding.

"From the moment I arrived I knew this was my home"

"I haven't had a good home-cooked meal like that since my wife passed"

"Your care and compassion have made such a difference to him in his last weeks and to all of us."
